Jones Day, a legal institution with more than 2,500 lawyers on five continents, is based on a set of core principles - the most critical of which is a relentless focus on client service that transcends individual interests.

Pleading Facts and Arguing Plausibility: Federal Pleading

A fact is something that is consistent with objective reality or that can be proven with evidence. The usual test for a statement of fact is verifiability – that is whether it can be demonstrated to correspond to experience. Standard reference works are often used to check facts.

Plea bargaining is a significant part of the criminal justice system in the United States; the vast majority (roughly 90%) of criminal cases in the United States are settled by plea bargain rather than by a jury trial. Plea bargains are subject to the approval of the court, and different States and jurisdictions have different rules.
